We are strong supporters of gender balance in sessions and panels, and we highly regret we did not manage to implement it ourselves

Cross-community convergence workshops to bootstrap Adra

- There is socio-economic, and strategic interest for enhanced collaboration between AI, Data and Robotics, as well as industry and research.
- Yet, in practice, cross-fertilization can be improved as stakeholder communities oftentimes have gotten accustomed to their own tools, platforms and services.
- In this session we explore synergies between tools, platforms and projects that may help facilitate convergence in the area of automotive and mobility.
